SECTION I: INTRODUCTION

THE EXAMINATION

The San Diego Police Recruit Written Examination is designed to measure the general aptitudes that are needed to become a successful Police Officer. No prior law enforcement experience is necessary to pass the test which includes the following three sections:

SECTION I: NARRATIVE READING COMPREHENSION/INTERPRETATION OF DATA. This section of the test will measure your ability to read, comprehend, and interpret factual or technical materials in a variety of written formats; and/or to draw inferences, recognize assumptions, weigh evidence and distinguish between relevant and irrelevant information presented in written form.

SECTION II: CHECKING ABILITY. This section of the test will measure your ability to detect similarities and differences between groups of items such as words or numbers.

SECTION III: DECISION MAKING. This section of the test will measure your ability to identify and comprehend critical elements of a situation and choose courses of action based on general policies and guidelines.

SECTION IV: WRITTEN COMMUNICATION. This section of the test will measure your ability to correctly apply fundamental of English grammar, spelling, punctuation, sentence structure, written expression, vocabulary, etc.

SCORING

The written test is a qualifying only (pass/fail) test. There is ONE overall pass point for this examination. You must pass the written test to proceed to the Pre-Investigative Questionnaire and Physical Ability Test, which are the next steps in the process.

If you are unsuccessful on the examination, you will receive feedback information on your Test Results Notice. Feedback will consist of the percentage of items you scored correctly on each test section in the examination. This will allow you to determine where your strengths and weakness are relative to this examination. You will not be told which specific items you missed on the examination.

TEST TAKING TIPS

- Follow all instructions on how to mark your answer sheet. All items on the examination are multiple-choice. You will mark all of your answers on a separate answer sheet which will be provided during the actual examination. The proctor will provide instructions on how to mark your answer sheet. Be sure to follow all directions carefully. Answer sheets are machine-scored, and if you accidentally mark an answer incorrectly, it may be counted wrong. You are permitted to erase freely on your answer sheet – just make sure that you erase cleanly.
- Read each item carefully. For each item, be sure to read the entire question and all of the possible answers before marking your answer sheet. Several answers may appear to be correct. You are to select the best answer.
- Answer items based only on the information provided. Do not answer items based on any personal knowledge you may have on a subject or how you think a Police Officer should respond.

- Skip difficult items. Do not spend too much time on an item that seems too difficult. Return to it later if you have time. It is better to skip a difficult question than to spend a lot of time on it and not be able to complete other examination questions.
- Carefully mark your answer sheet. If you skip an item, remember to skip that number on your answer sheet. Be sure that each answer you mark is in the space numbered the same as the question you are answering in your test booklet. Never mark more than one answer per test item. If two choices are marked, you will not receive any credit even if one of them is correct.
- Use a process of elimination. If you are unsure of the correct answer, first eliminate any answers that are clearly wrong. Carefully reread the question and all answer choices and then select the one that you feel is most correct.
- Guess rather than leave an answer blank on your answer sheet. Points are given for correct answers only. Because there is no penalty (points deducted) for incorrect answers, you should answer each question even if you must guess at the correct answer.
- Remain calm. Do not worry if you do not know the answers to some test questions. No one is expected to get a perfect score.
- Ask questions. Remember, the test proctors are there to help you do your best. If you have any questions regarding the directions before the test begins, raise your hand and ask for clarification. During the examination, you may raise your hand if you have questions, however, the test proctors will not be able to interpret any of the test instructions or test questions for you.
- Monitor your time. When the test begins, make a mental note of the time that the test will end. As you take the test, monitor your time and pace yourself so you are able to make it through the entire test. When the Proctor announces that you only have a few minutes left, complete all the items you can in the remaining time, even if you must guess.

SECTION II – SAMPLE TEST ITEMS

This section provides examples of the types of items contained in the Police Recruit written test. When answering these items and those on the actual written test, make sure that you carefully read all of the directions to each set of questions. Not all of the directions are the same.

When you take the actual written test, you will not be able to write or make any marks in your test booklet. Writing or making any type of marks in your test booklet may be cause for disqualification from the examination process. Since scratch paper will be provided at the written test for any notes that you may need to make, you should practice by using scratch paper to answer the sample test items provided in this section of the Study Guide.

READING COMPREHENSION/INTERPRETATION OF DATA

DIRECTIONS: Answer items in this section of the test based ONLY on the information provided and NOT on any other knowledge you may have about the subject. Choose the best answer for each item and mark the corresponding letter on your answer sheet.

1. Community policing increases the visibility of the police department in the community and gives the citizens of the community an opportunity to have direct input regarding neighborhood problems and solutions. This direct connection between the community and the police helps to build trust and foster a positive attitude towards the police and gives the citizens of a neighborhood a sense of responsibility towards their community. Community policing also gives the police an opportunity to improve community relations and develop new crime fighting resources within their neighborhood.

The above paragraph most nearly means that

- A. citizens should have a larger role in policing their community
- B. community policing is beneficial to both the police and the community
- C. police officers are responsible for community relations on their beat
- D. the sole purpose of community policing is giving citizens a direct connection to the police

DIRECTIONS: Answer items 2 through 3 based only on the information presented below.

Bullets, cartridges and empty cases found at a crime scene can be very helpful in determining the type and caliber of weapon used during the commission of a crime. This type of evidence should be handled carefully so as not to damage it. Bullets must be removed from their point of impact and their location recorded accurately. Whenever possible, it is desirable to remove the material encasing a spent bullet (part of a wall, part of a door, etc.) as opposed to trying to pry the bullet out of the enclosure since the tool used to dig it out may leave unwanted marks or may damage the bullet.

A spent bullet may be identified and matched to a submitted firearm. Imperfections in the surface of the interior of the firearm barrel leave striations on the bullets. Striations have the potential to be consistently reproduced in a unique pattern on every bullet that passes down the barrel. If a firearm is recovered at the scene or from a suspect, testing can determine if bullets found at the scene were fired from the submitted firearm by comparing the striations on the bullets found at the scene to bullets fired in the crime laboratory.

2. According to the information, which one of the following is the most accurate?
 - A. one should always remove the material encasing a spent bullet
 - B. spent bullets found at a scene are valuable evidence and should be handled with care
 - C. striations found on a bullet are always unique and may be used for identification purposes
 - D. the location of a bullet at the point of impact is information used to identify a firearm
3. When an officer is collecting spent bullets from a crime scene, which of the actions listed below follow correct procedures?
 - A. accurately record the location of the impact
 - B. do not cut or make marks on the bullet
 - C. remove the bullets from their point of impact
 - D. all of the above

EXPLANATORY ANSWERS

In this section, explanations have been provided for a few of the sample test items in this Study Guide. These items cover the following sections: Reading Comprehension/Interpretation of data (items 1, 2 and 3); Decision Making (items 10 and 11); and Written Communication Section (items 25 and 26).

READING COMPREHENSION/INTERPRETATION OF DATA

1. Choice “B” is the correct answer. The passage illustrates the benefit of community policing to both the community and the police.

Choice “A” is not correct. Nowhere in the passage does it state or imply that citizens should have a larger role in policing their community.

Choice “C” is not correct. While police officers do participate in and shape community relations on their beat, this was not the main meaning of the passage.

Choice “D” is not correct. Community policing does give citizens of a community direct access to the police. However, this is only one part of community policing and not the main meaning of the passage.

2. Choice “B” is the correct answer. The passage states that “Bullets, cartridges, and empty cases found at a crime scene can be very beneficial in determining the type and caliber of weapon used during the commission of a crime” then goes on to explain proper handling of spent bullets at a crime scene.

Choice “A” is not correct. The passage mentions removing the material encasing a spent bullet whenever possible, not always.

Choice “C” is not correct. Striations found on a bullet are not always unique; the passage only states they have the potential to be unique.

Choice “D” is not correct. The passage states that spent bullets may be used to identify the firearm used; the passage does not state that the location of the spent bullet provides any information regarding the type of firearm used.

3. Choice “D” is the correct answer. All the statements (“A through C”) are mentioned in the passage as being correct procedures for collecting spent bullets at a crime scene.

DECISION MAKING

10. Choice “B” is the correct answer. According to Section (E) of the Police Department Regulation, Frank’s vehicle is considered to be inoperable since it is missing a wheel. Frank would be in violation of the regulation if his vehicle has been parked on the street in this condition for more than four consecutive hours. Since we do not know how long Frank’s vehicle has been parked on the street, more information is required to determine if this action violates the regulation.

11. Choice "A" is the correct answer. According to Section (F) of the Police Department Regulation, camp trailers and utility trailers are excluded from the provision which states that unattached semitrailers may not be parked on the street except for the purpose of loading and unloading. Therefore, Sarah is not in violation of the regulations when she parks her utility trailer on the street overnight.

WRITTEN COMMUNICATION – RANDOMLY ORDERED SENTENCES

25. Choice "B" is the correct answer since sentence (S3) should directly follow sentence (S2). The correct order for the sentences is: (S3) – (S2) – (S1) – (S4) – (S5) as shown below.

I responded to a two car crash last night on Winding Creek Road. Car #1, which was driven by Bill Johnson, skidded 45 feet and hit Car #2 on the right side. At that point, the left front door of Car #2 sprang open and the driver, Christy Wilson, was thrown out. I administered first aid at the scene until the ambulance arrived and she was rushed to the hospital. I then completed my report after taking a statement from Mr. Johnson and the two witnesses that remained at the scene.

26. Choice "D" is the correct answer since sentence (S5) should directly follow sentence (S2). The correct order for the sentences is: (S2) – (S5) – (S1) – (S4) – (S6) – (S3) as shown below.

On Saturday, June 10th, I responded to a call about an auto theft near the north end of Ocean View Park. Upon arrival, I encountered a Mr. Sohne who was extremely agitated. After calming down, Mr. Sohne indicated that his truck, which was for sale, had been parked on the street near the entrance to the park. He said that a potential buyer had arrived and was interested in buying the truck. He left the truck for just a few minutes so he could get the maintenance records which were in his house across the street. The call to police was made when he returned to find his truck missing.
